ESP Quick Tip #37: End-Buyer Safe and Client Safe Mode

2022-05-19 - Jennifer M - ESP Quick Tips

There are two modes available in ESP that hide sensitive information: Client Safe Mode and End Buyer Safe options. But, what is the difference between these two options?

- End Buyer Safe

  The "End Buyer Safe" option refers to controlling which fields are displayed in the product search results, replacing the supplier's product number with the coded product number while simultaneously hiding the supplier's information and net cost.

- Client Safe Mode

  Client Safe Mode will also hide the supplier's information and net cost from product search results, but the product number will remain. However, client safe mode also hide all supplier related from ESP, including Supplier Search, New Suppliers, and Supplier Catalogs.
