If you need to create exceptions to the preferred pricing, you can use the Price Exceptions dropdown. A price exception is when a supplier offers special pricing with the exception of products in a specific category, brand, quantity, or quantity column. If an exception is applied to a quantity or quantity column, the preferred pricing will not be applied to any quantities or columns below the designated threshold. This means that if you select column 3 as the pricing exception, all pricing in column 1, 2, and 3 will be excluded from preferred pricing.

In the example below, the preferred pricing reflects net cost EQP on all products, except for backpacks and bags.

These levels can be copied so that they will display on your ESP Website, or you can create a different set of rankings which may be more client-friendly. ## List Conflict & Notes Settings

Occasionally, a user may be assigned more than one preferred supplier list. In these cases, if one list has a supplier rank of 2 and the other has the same supplier ranked as a 1, you are also able to specify which ranking you would like to refer to, the higher rank or the lower one.

To set up this option, just click the radio button next to your choice (High to Low or Low to High).

You can also select whether you would like to enable individual users the ability to share notes. Shared notes are entered by users (administrators and standard) and available for all users in the company. By checking the "Do not allow any user in my company to add a Shared Note" box, notes for all users in the company will be managed solely by administrators.

The screenshot shows two settings panels. The left panel, titled "List Conflict Settings", contains a descriptive paragraph and two radio button options: "High to Low (Use Rank 1 over Rank 2)" which is selected, and "Low to High (Use Rank 2 over Rank 1)". A blue arrow points to the "Save" button at the bottom of this panel. The right panel, titled "Notes Settings", contains a checkbox option "Do not allow any User in my company to add a Shared Note. Previously Shared Notes will not be deleted." which is currently unchecked. At the bottom of the entire settings area are two buttons: "Cancel" and "Save".

Click on the Save button when you are finished.
